OFFICIAL MATCHDAY PROGRAMME

A-LEAGUE 2020/21 SEASON, MATCH WEEK 13

WEDNESDAY 24 MARCH, 2021 | 6:20PM KO | HBF PARK

PERTH GLORY V SYDNEY FC

CHAIRMAN'S COLUMN

Tony Sage

I'd like to welcome all our Members and fans to HBF Park for tonight's game, along with our visitors from Sydney FC.

It's great to be back at home facing a team with whom we have shared some memorable, high-stakes battles in recent years.

Unfortunately we head into this game off the back of a disappointing defeat against Wanderers and while I know that Richard Garcia does not like to make excuses, I have to point out the 28 days of hard quarantine which we have endured, plus an horrendous schedule which now continues with two games in four days at home, followed by three in eight days away.

That said, we are very confident that our run of home games, together with the likes of Sebastian Langkamp and Chris Ikonomidis becoming available, will help push us back into the top six quickly.

We need our Members and fans now more than ever, so let's get right behind the lads tonight! #OneGlory

MEET THE OPPOSITION

Steve Corica

The reigning Champions and Premiers have struggled for consistency so far this term, picking up five wins from their 11 games to date and only managing to score 15 goals along the way.

Head Coach Steve Corica still has plenty of quality in his squad, however, with Adam Le Fondre the only notable absentee from the side which swept all before them last term.

Former Johnny Warren and Joe Marston Medal-winner Milos Ninkovic remains the Sky Blues' main creative influence, while the return of veteran Brazilian Bobo has bolstered their striking options.

Young forward Pat Wood, meanwhile, has impressed with three goals from four starts and evergreen skipper Alex Wilkinson continues to provide a commanding presence at the back.

Sydney FC have enjoyed the better of this fixture in recent years, winning on five of their last six trips to the West, with Glory's most recent victory coming in January 2019.
